FIRE RESCUE

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AN elderly lady was rescued by firefighters, and five people were evacuated from another property as two separate fires broke out in the Honiton area on Sunday evening.

A smoke alarm alerted people in King's Garden, Honiton, to a house fire at about 6pm.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "One appliance from Honiton was mobilised to reports of a domestic smoke alarm sounding.

"On arrival crews forced entry and found the ground floor of the property heavily smoke logged.

"One elderly lady was rescued by fire fighters, given oxygen therapy and conveyed to hospital by ambulance.

"Crews used two breathing apparatus sets to gain entry and extinguished the burning plastic mats. Crews ventilated the property."

There was no further information regarding the lady's condition, but the spokesperson said the reason for the fire was plastic mats placed on a cooker.

A few hours later, at about 10.50pm, firefighters were called to a semi-detached property in Otter View, Monkton.

The spokesperson said: "The occupants were advised to evacuate the property safely.

"Upon arrival crews found there was smoke issuing and committed four firefighters in breathing apparatus with two hose reels.

"Ambulance personnel attended as the occupants — two adults and three children suffered from slight smoke inhalation — but did not need to go to hospital."

The spokesperson explained that the fire involved the front door, the hallway and stairs.

The rest of property was damaged by smoke.

Staff from Western Power also attended to deal with the electrical side of things.

The cause of the fire is thought to be accidental.

In a general plea, issued after a number of fires over the weekend, fire chiefs are asking people to make sure they check there is a safe distance between combustible materials and appliances such as heaters.

MAJORITY OF SCHOOLS SHUT

Strike affects 21 schools

By CHARLIE TRAYNOR
pulmans@findlenews.co.uk

WEDNESDAY, November 30th, saw the majority of local schools across Pulman's Country close due to industrial action over public sector workers' pensions.

The Axe Valley Community College (TAVCC) was one of the schools closed and TAVCC headteacher, Martin Smith, wrote in a letter to parents how a significant number of staff were planning to take part in the industrial action.

He wrote prior to the strikes: "I have explored a range of options to consider if we can remain open in part to some students but we cannot provide adequate supervision and adequately meaningful learning experiences.

"This decision has not been taken lightly."

Mr Smith further added how seriously the college took its responsibility for the students' education and how home learning activities had been arranged for the day.

Twenty-one of the 31 schools Pulman's View was able to contact were closed last Wednesday with nine being unaffected and one remaining partially open.

Though a significant number of schools remained open as usual, the walk out illusrates local teaching staff's dissatisfaction with the government's current proposals to reform public sector pensions.

However, there does not appear to be much support from local residents as a poll conducted on the Pulman's View website showed just three per cent of over 250 votes agreed with the strike action.

Swan rescue

A POLICE officer and a member of the public joined forces to rescue a swan, which had crash-landed on the road between Musbury and Whitford.

The drama unfolded at about 11.30am on Wednesday, November 30th. Police received a report of an injured swan in the middle of the road. The swan was unable to move and behaved in an aggressive manner when approached.

Axminster-based PC Kevin Bennett was despatched to investigate.

He said it is possible that the swan mistook the road for the river when coming in to land.

Assisted by a member of the public, who appeared to have veterinary experience, PC Bennett managed to wrap the bird in a towel and arrange transport to Coombefield Veterinary Hospital in Axminster.

Road safety

OFFWELL Under Fives' Preschool has been supporting the charity BRAKE by raising money and road safety awareness.

Throughout the week starting Monday, November 21st the preschool held a Bright Day with the children donating money to make traffic light biscuits before taking part in a variety of activities. All the money raised was donated to BRAKE who support victims of road traffic incidents.

Teenage girl grabbed in lane – police

A WOMAN in her late teens was allegedly followed and accosted in broad daylight at Pidgeon's Lane, near Axminster, at about 2pm on Tuesday, November 29th.

Pidgeon's Lane runs between Cooks Lane and the A35, and police say that a dark blue Rover-style hatchback vehicle may have been used by the suspect.

The car was parked on the A35 at the time of the incident.

It is alleged that a man followed the woman before trying to grab her.

Police say contact was made but the woman managed to get away.

The suspect is described as white with a pale complexion and aged 25-45 years.

He wore a blue, hooded top which was pulled tight around the face.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101 and ask for PC Wheeler at Honiton Police Station.

The incident reference is KA/11/553.

CARPET JOBS ARE AT RISK

Streamlining announced by firm

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER Carpets bosses say there could be redundancies in the company's sales office.

The company issued a statement to Pulman's View on Tuesday, November 29th, saying: "As part of the continued drive to improve sales growth and profit over the past few years, culminating in a return to profit in 2010, Axminster Carpets announced the next phase in its programme of transformation, targeting the sales office.

"A review has highlighted the benefits to be achieved for both customers and the organisation with a streamlining and combining of related business processes, simplifying currently complex and disjointed ways of working.

"As a result a number of employees have been put at risk of redundancy, although the organisation will do its best to keep numbers to a minimum."

Parish gets £28,000 from the diocese for work with kids

COLYTON Mission Community (CMC) will receive £28,000 from the Diocese of Exeter.

CMC, which consists of the churches of Branscombe, Colyford, Colyton, Musbury and Southleigh, made a successful bid to the Diocese of Exeter's Million for Mission fund.

The diocese has drawn £1 million from its reserves to fund selected parishes' work with young people and those in need.

The Rev Hilary Dawson said: "We have been awarded £28,000 to help resource work with children and families. The money will be used over the next three years in our four parishes and five churches to buy resources, enhance our worship and help us launch new activities.

"We will also be employing a children's adviser/practitioner to work in our mission community for about eight hours a week.

"We hope to advertise in the new year and to appoint a worker by spring 2012.

"We are delighted that our bid was successful and are extremely grateful to have been given this sum of money which will allow us to begin some exciting new work in our local area."

The Rt Reverend Michael Langrish, Bishop of Exeter, said: "It was wonderful to see so many good applications for this fund.

"Each project shows how churches right across Devon are responding to the real needs of their communities.

"Our churches are working to ensure they remain at the heart of every village, town and city in Devon."

Children love new play leader

A PRE-SCHOOL and its leader have looked back on a mutually pleasing term.

Michele Young, pictured above with some of the children, joined Little Acorns Pre-School, based in the grounds of Shute Community Primary School, at the start of the current term.

Pre-school chairman Helen Jenkin explained: "We were worried who would replace our previous leader, Amanda Churchill-Deam, when she was offered a teaching post, but to have found Michele as her successor has been brilliant.

"She is always so positive and the children love her"

Michele, who has been involved with small community pre-schools for eight years, was equally enthusiastic. She said: "I have had a wonderful time with the Little Acorns this autumn.

"It is a truly amazing setting with Shute Barton and the woods right opposite the school.

"Being able to use all the facilities of Shute Community Primary School really enhances the way pre-school runs.

"We are also fortunate that our new external door was finished over the summer holidays, allowing the children to use both inside and outside at any point during the session."

Lowest crime rate for years in rural area

SEATON and its surrounding area have seen the lowest crime rate for November since 2004, with some areas experiencing no crime at all.

PC Steve Speariett said: "November's total of eight crimes for the month is the lowest since at least 2004 and the average for November has been 17 crimes in that period.

"These totals are very encouraging."

Crime has dropped 27 per cent in relation to the same time last year and 33 per cent from last month.

Despite this, police remain vigilant and are asking for any information regarding a stolen quad bike, with the registration WJ55MEV, and a chainsaw from an outbuilding to the north of Colyton between the November 21st-22nd.

"The offenders would have needed a substantial vehicle to take the bike away and we would ask you to record any suspicious vehicles you see and pass the details onto the police straight away," said PC Speariett.

If you have any information contact Seaton Police Station on 101 or email seaton@devonandcornwall.pnn.police.uk.

Alternatively you can call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111. The crime reference number is KN/11/460.

◆ ABBOTT'S children's treasure hunt, as previously reported, has been hailed by store owner Tony Abbot as a huge success.
Part of Ottery St Mary's late night shopping event on Friday, November 25th, the treasure hunt saw more than 150 children searching the store for missing letters that would spell out a toy that Santa needed to make for Christmas. All those who took part received a prize and a certificate

Pharmacy's 10th birthday

MORTON'S Pharmacy has clocked up 10 years serving Axminster.

Birthday celebrations were held on Thursday, December 1st and saw customers being treated to cakes and entered into a prize draw.

Pharmacist Ian Morton says the premises have housed pharmacies under different names since 1911, so there was also reason to celebrate a centenary.

Mr Morton illustrated the building's pharmaceutical history by showing some interesting memorabilia.

It came in the shape of copied accounts from Gilbert D Cleaver's first week of trading in 1911, during which customers spent a total of 46 shillings five and a half pence (about £2.30!).

Mr Morton said: "To be successful you rely on the support of the local community.

"Hopefully, we have looked after the local community.

"The local community has definitely looked after us."

Festival of antiquity

BETWEEN November 14th and November 20th Honiton Antiques Festival showcased the town's thriving antiques businesses to link in with National Antiques Week.

The festival, backed by Honiton Town Council, the tourist information centre and chamber of commerce, saw visitors from throughout the UK as well as from France, Ireland and Denmark, arrive in the town to take part, boosting local business in the process.

The single biggest draw was the Restoration Fair on Saturday, November 19th with 650 visitors between 10am and 3pm. Here, restorers and conservers demonstrated their skills at Mackarness Hall.

The event was instigated by Elizabeth Chilcott, of Chilcott's Auctioneers, and organised in conjunction with a variety of local antique businesses.

Memorable Christmas?

AXMINSTER Memory Café will stage its Christmas party on Tuesday, December 13th from 2pm-4pm in the Senior Citizens' Centre, which is next door to the town's tourist information centre.

HGQ (Team Captain) – "Not in our wildest dreams would we have expected to have raised so much money for such a good cause - particularly in these trying financial times - it is a real achievement and we are very proud to have been able to help such a worthy cause". This sum added to the 25% increase from Giftaid means that the total sum received by the Movember Foundation will be in excess of £3,800.00! NC (Senior Partner) – "People have been incredibly generous. We hope that we have sparked discussion and raised awareness of the importance of Movember for family, friends, clients and colleagues alike".

Movember takes place once a year where members must grow a "Mo" (moustache) for the month of November remaining clean-shaven but for the Moustache itself. The purpose is to not only raise money for the charity, but more importantly to raise awareness of Mens' health issues and the importance of looking after one's own health.

The policemen talked to the children about what stealing meant and what its consquences were. Many were surprised that you only have to be 10 years old to be taken to court for stealing. Hugh's £100,000 for energy share

RIVER Cottage has embarked upon an energy-share campaign to get communities up and down the country involved in local renewable energy projects.

For the past six months communities have been working together to apply for funding of up to £100,000 to get local projects off the ground.

River Cottage founder Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall said: "I'm proud to be a part of a new idea called energyshare.

"It's all about people being given real ways to help shape the future of renewable energy in Britain".

One community project that made the final shortlist is The Hub in Lyme Regis.

Started by Lyme Regis Development Trust, the project aims to renovate an abandoned youth club building to turn it into an energy efficient, sustainable and progressive centre for young people in the Lyme Regis area.

The £100,000 grant would have enabled The Hub to increase its financial sustainability and young people's environmental awareness.

Having made the shortlist, The Hub was disappointed when it was revealed that a group in Hexham, Northumberland, won the £100,000.

"The Hub's significance is far deeper than good energy practice," said a spokesman for The Hub.

"It reaches into the heart of our community, valuing young people and giving them the best start in life we can".

Online voting was open until 5pm on Saturday, December 3rd.

To find out more about energyshare go to www.energyshare.com.

To find out more about The Hub project visit www.hublyme.co.uk.

Kate steps in as temporary museum boss

FOLLOWING the announcement of the departure of Mary Godwin, Lyme Regis Museum has appointed Kate Hebditch as temporary, freelance curator.

As previously reported, curator Mary Godwin recently announced her resignation to take up a new post with the Arts Council in Exeter on January 9th.

The chairman of Lyme Regis Museum trustees, Stephen Locke, said: "We are delighted that Kate has accepted our invitation to help us through this interim period.

"She is very experienced and will ensure that the museum runs smoothly until we have gone through the lengthy process of advertising, interviewing and appointing a new director, which could take up to six months.

"The trustees are committed to ensuring that the staff and volunteers are well supported in this time of transition and that the museum continues to be the active and lively place it has become under Mary's direction."

Kate worked as assistant curator at Dorset County Museum for 12 years, and more recently as museum development officer in London and as a freelance museum adviser.

She lives in Dorchester, where she has been a town councillor for eight years. She was mayor of Dorchester in 2008.

City players present new kit to children

EXETER City defender Billy Jones made a special appearance at the club's Colyton Regional Development Centre.

Jones and former youth trainee Aaron Dawson as well as City's head of youth Simon Hayward made the trip to east Devon to present a new training kit to the 37 youngsters who attend the centre run by Keith Somers, manager of Colyton FC.

"We have youngsters from under-sevens to under-14s at the development centre and we are always looking for good young players from local clubs and schools," said Somers, who is the centre manager.

"We try to improve them with coaching and if we think they are good enough we then send them on to Exeter City's centre of excellence.

"Now they have some new training kit and it was great for the youngsters to meet Billy and Aaron, who then stayed on to give a coaching session.

"The youngsters were also given tickets for the Exeter City match at home to Scunthorpe United on December 17th."

Mix-up over dates for Xmas event is resolved

THOSE who thought they had missed Seaton Christmas Festival can breathe a sigh of relief.

The event is scheduled to take place on Friday, December 9th.

East Devon District Council (EDDC) has asked for help in clarifying the date after a mix-up.

An EDDC bulletin said: "EDDC wishes to apologise for a typographical error in the last issue of its residents' magazine East Devon Connect, which suggests that Seaton Christmas Festival will be on December 3rd.

"This is incorrect.

"Printed copies of the magazine have the wrong date. The online version has been corrected."

So, Friday December 9th from 4.30pm- 8pm it is.

The EDDC spokesman said: "With live music and street performers, Axe Valley Community Choir and Seaton Primary School will lead the outdoor carol concert.

"Seaton Fire and Ice Majorettes will lead a candlelit procession through the town, and Father Christmas will be arriving too.

"The town square Christmas tree and lights will be switched on, and shoppers can enjoy late night shopping.

"There will also be an excellent range of interesting craft and food stalls in the town hall."

Axe Festival pays £22,000 to groups

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

THERE were cheques galore at the 17th Axe Vale Festival annual meeting on Wednesday, November 23rd at Cloakham Lawn Sports Centre, Axminster.

The organising committee announced that this year's show had made a profit of more than £40,000, and grants totalling £22,406 were presented to local organisations.

Outgoing chairman Ron Cross said that 2011 saw a record number of exhibitors totalling 421, and the number of visitors was almost 14,000 over the two days.

This year saw an enlarged food hall with an increased seating area and an increase in mobile caterers with a covered seating area owing to the fact that restaurant facilities were no longer available.

Mr Cross also reported that more than £300,000 had been paid out to organisations over the years, benefiting Axminster and surrounding districts.

A number of members stood down from the committee at the meeting and it has been decided to introduce life membership to them as well as other stalwarts who have given a great deal of their time over many years.

Looking ahead to next year, Mr Cross revealed that 2012 would see Pecorama bring a mini-train to the showground.

It was also reported that Axminster Tool Centre, celebrating its 40th anniversary next year, and Axminster Carpets, in its 75th year of manufacturing carpets in the town, would have a presence.

Local groups and societies who received cheques included Flamingo Pool, Axminster Alternative JobClub, All Saints CofE Primary School, Axe Valley Community College, HALFF, Millwey Rise Football Club, 1st Scout Group, Cloakham Lawn Sports Centre, Axminster Heritage, Axminster Art Society, United Reformed Church, St. John the Baptist, Hawkchurch (Church Bells) and Axminster Arts' Websters Art Project.

The date of the Axe Vale Festival in 2012 will be Saturday, June 23rd and Sunday, June 24th.

Calendar full of wildlife

DEVON Wildlife Trust (DWT) is marking its 50th anniversary with the launch of a 2012 wildlife calendar.

Fundraising officer Phoebe Grubb said: "This is our first-ever calendar so we are hoping lots of people will choose to have it on their wall.

"This anniversary is such a milestone we wanted to give something back to our supporters."

Carrie Park, who compiled the calendar thanked the photographers who supplied the wildlife pictures. "Without their help we wouldn't have been able to bring you such a beautiful product," she said.

The calendar costs £5 with funds going towards the DWT's conservation work.

Those wishing to buy one should visit www.devonwildlifetrust.org or call Devon Wildlife Trust on 01392 279244.

No response

FOLLOWING town councillor Cecily Young's resignation in September, Honiton Town Council was forced to call a by-election that was to take place on December 15th.

The deadline for nominations has now passed with no nomination packs being returned.

The council now needs once more to co-opt a member of the public on to its ranks. The first instance of co-opting occurred after the elections in May where the unopposed election of 15 councillors meant three vacancies still needed to be filled.

A new member for St Michael's Ward will be co-opted as soon as possible.

Hotel gets national award for its menu

THE Monkton Court Hotel, restaurant and bar, near Honition, has been awarded national recognition for its à la carte menu with two AA rosettes following a recent inspection.

"The meal sampled impressed on a number of levels with technicality, balance and flavour definition all commensurate with a new award of two rosettes," the inspector commented in his report.

He added that Monkton's head chef, Joe Nagy, cooked with "great sensitivity".

Owner Jennifer Wheatley-Brown said that her head chef deserved the recognition he's received, saying: "He's worked so hard and is very talented with such flair and passion in the kitchen."

She added that more people should "come and see what we've got to offer".

The Monkton Court Hotel restaurant will also double as a live music venue on Friday, December 23rd.

The restaurant serves locally-sourced produce and seasonal ingredients in the evening from Tuesday to Saturday, with two courses costing £26.50 and three courses £34.

Free parking for shoppers

EAST Devon District Council (EDDC) is introducing free parking in the run-up to Christmas.

The initiative means shoppers in the region will be able to park free for four hours on a single afternoon of each town's choice.

Ticket machines will be clearly marked to inform motorists of the concession. The move does not apply to car parks operated by Devon County Council or any on-street parking charges that may be in effect.

Councillor Iain Chubb, EDDC's environment portfolio holder, said: "We are doing this because we want to help our High Streets in these difficult times."

The dates of the free parking concessions are as follows:

Axminster: Saturday, December 10th from 2pm to 6pm;

Beer: Friday, December 9th from 2pm to 6pm;

Colyton: Wednesday, December 7th from 2pm to 6pm;

Honiton: Saturday, December 17th from 2pm to 6pm;

Seaton: Friday, December 9th from 2pm to 6pm.

Free parking in Sidmouth, Exmouth and Ottery has already taken place.

£1,000 for Guide Dogs

BRANCHES of Specsavers in Honiton, Exeter and Exmouth have raised £1,000 for Guide Dogs.

To raise funds, stores offered face-painting and "spectacle MoTs" in exchange for donations, as well as conducting a raffle.

Guide Dog trainee puppies also visited the stores on Saturday, November 19th.

Jonathan Baumber, retail director of the three stores, said: "I'm so glad we achieved our target of £1,000. All of the puppies proved a big hit with visitors on the day."

Specsaver Stores nationwide have pledged £250,000 to pay for the breeding and training of 25 Guide Dogs.

Guide Dogs representative Jessica Stickland said: "It's the generosity of companies like Specsavers and their customers that enable us to provide more dogs."

Thanks for providing such a warm, lovely pool

EDITOR – I had the pleasure of using the hydrotherapy pool at the Axminster Flamingo Pool recently. It made me realise how lucky I am.

Many thanks to the staff and volunteers and to all who help run and fund the Flamingo Pool.

Thanks for providing such a lovely warm pool to alleviate my arthritis.

When I see such disabled people, some quite young, with such kind carers helping and encouraging them, I realise how many blessings I have.

I can walk – not very far or very quickly, but I can still walk.

Here are fellow users of the pool with little mobility, blind and deaf and being cared for with such understanding and in the knowledge there are attendants at hand, equipment to use and warm, clean surroundings. So bless you all.

Please help Axminster Flamingo Pool to keep going so that lots of people who need it to help them to keep going can continue to enjoy the wonderful facilities.

Superstores' millions from part-time workers

EDITOR – I read in Pulman's View, dated December 15th, that Tesco has created 190 new jobs at its new store in Seaton.

Tesco seems to think that we should be grateful, but I wonder if the company would like to publish just how many of the 190 new jobs are anywhere near full-time and just how many are for 15 or 16 hours per week.

Correct me if I am wrong, but it would appear that in line with most of the supermarkets in this country, Tesco employs mostly part-time staff.

Obviously there are some people who only require part-time work, but the majority would like a full-time job that provides them with a living wage.

The supermarkets employ part-time staff who only earn just below the threshold for paying tax and National Insurance, thereby saving themselves huge sums of money.

This is because they do not have to pay the employer's contribution to National Insurance, as they would if they employed fewer staff on a full-time basis.

This is nothing short of a national scandal and does nothing to help our struggling National Health System, especially as the part-time staff in many cases have to continue to claim benefits in order to live.

When you consider the vast number of part-time staff employed by supermarkets all over the country and wonder what a difference it could make if only half or even a third of that number were full-time, contributing to tax and National Insurance.

This method of employment may benefit the shareholders of the supermarkets, but it does little for the good of the country.

Greed, the evil at the root of this crisis

EDITOR – The present financial situation makes me think about the way our country and most of the rest world is being run and wonder where it all went wrong.

I believe the answer can be summed up with one word – "greed".

I remember after I left school in 1975 that I would go to work and receive my weekly wage, which would then go into the bank.

When it was gone, it was gone and that's how I got my financial experience.

I was even refused a £50 loan to buy a car because the bank manager told me he did not believe I would be able to pay it back.

Looking back, I know he was right.

Then in the 1980s things started to change. We had the "big bang" which deregulated the banks and was actually the seed that led to us giving them £850 billion of our hard-earned cash.

It seemed as if the bankers, managing directors of multinational companies and politicians had watched the film Wall Street, where the character Gordon Gekko gave a speech in which he stated "greed is good" and rather than the bankers seeing Gekko as a horrible selfish monster who destroyed others' lives to feed his own greed, they saw him as someone to admire and his statement as something to which to aspire.

Now in the new century I see my dad, who has never asked for anything from the state, having to pay before waiting for two months for social services to come and help him have a bath because they have a waiting list.

I see a friend who is having to move out of his home because the landlord has increased his rent from half to almost two-thirds of his monthly wage.

I see banks who almost seem to encourage us to get into debt or go over your our overdraft limit so that they can reap the reward.

I see multinational businesses awarding pay rises I could live on for a lifetime after claiming they had no choice but to increase their prices.

I see all of the above wanting an unsustainable and endless growth while the planet screams for fresh, unpolluted air.

There has to be a better way.

Caring staff and caring neighbours

EDITOR – Last week I made the most unwise decision to do some branch-lopping without first securing the ladder.

The ladder slipped and I fell badly and heavily, sustaining a dislocated shoulder and muscle damage.

A neighbour immediately dialled 999 and stayed with me until the paramedics arrived only minutes later.

I was quickly whisked off to the Accident and Emergency department at Wonford in Exeter.

During the time I was being treated at Wonford many of our neighbours called on my wife expressing their concerns and offering to take her to Wonford in the event of my being admitted.

I just want to thank all my caring neighbours for everything they did. I am extremely grateful and feel so fortunate to have such neighbours.

I would also like to make mention of the two Honiton-based paramedics who attended.

They were absolutely wonderful in controlling the pretty agonising pain and also for their constant reassurance and empathetic manner.

Thank you, gentlemen, very much. I'll never forget the kind and understanding way in which you treated me,

Gratefully to you all.

A TABLE IS FOR LIFE NOT JUST FOR XMAS

At the very heart of Christmas is the warmth of the family coming together with friends for this wonderful annual celebration. For many people the focal point of this time spent together is the Christmas day dinner with everyone around the dining table. Alexander Paul Antiques, specialise in family farmhouse dining tables, and they report that this is an especially busy time of year with demand being high for this particular piece of furniture. For all sorts of different reasons many people buy a new table just before Christmas ready for the big day. Maybe the old one is just too small for the ever growing family, or maybe a house move with greater space permits a more generous sized table. What ever the reason, you want to be well prepared for when all your friends and family arrive.

Alexander Paul Antiques offer all readers a warm welcome to their showrooms at Fenny Bridges Nr Honiton where they have one of the largest selections of farmhouse tables in the West country and plenty of free parking.

"If we don't have the table you want" says Charles Taylor "we will certainly be able to find it for you".

Alexander Paul Antiques have a wide range of other pieces of French country furniture including coffee tables and serving tables as well as some stunning mahogany furniture, both English and French.

Alexander Paul Antiques have a "home view" service. This allows customers to see a particular piece of furniture in situ in their own home before they commit to buying. For some people this removes any uncertainty they might have as to weather it will fit or not and so gives them confidence to make the right decision and buy.

Wanted: Green space for the residents of our town

EDITOR – To Josh Dutfield and the board of Axminster Carpets, please convert the green space that is Cloakham Lawns to parkland for us residents to enjoy, rather than sell it for housing development.

I believe in the longer term this will be a greater benefit to the community and the company, than the housing proposed.

The only road available to serve the new proposed development is the Chard Road which is already under pressure. Surely this will be to the detriment of us residents, and ultimately to the detriment of your company.

The town centre will suffocate and will attract no investment. I concur with Graham Barton, agent for Webster's Garage, when he made the same prediction to the press a few weeks ago.

I know we need more housing, but the Local Plan now under discussion with the district council proposes a larger development than Cloakham Lawns can offer to the east side of the town with the benefit of a relief road.

The relief road will be key to Axminster's future prosperity and to the quality of life of its residents by allowing the town centre to become an attractive, safe retail environment.

However, the district council will support the building of a relief road only on condition of a half-hourly train service to Exeter and the new town of Cranbrook. There is no logic I can see in this. The relief road will be needed as soon as the east side development commences.

If we residents of Axminster, through our town councillors, were to fully embrace the east side alternative and you and your company were to withdraw your application to turn Cloakham Lawn into housing, we will make it clear to the district council just how committed we are to a town centre that is both a delight to shop in and safe for residents and visitors, and that building a relief road must come first not second.

Cloakham Lawn would become parkland for the enjoyment of the residents of the town.

Axminster Carpets and its board are therefore in a unique position to make or break Axminster. I believe it was with a heavy heart that the decision to sell Cloakham Lawns was made, but there is now the chance to retract from that position.

The application is subject to judicial review and this could take a year to resolve. Furthermore the district council intends to defend its decision to grant permission using our council tax money.

How ironic that money I pay to my district council is used to pay for something I was never consulted upon, and I don't want.

To Axminster Carpets and its board I ask you, just how many other residents might think like me?

Withdrawal of your application will require you to take a longer-term view on your company's prospects but for the sake of Axminster it will be the right decision.

Gospel the same always

EDITOR – Over the past few years we have witnessed the increasing use of unmanned aerial vehicles, commonly known as drones, to mount armed attacks across the globe.

Impressionable young men in Nevada develop a "Playstation" mentality as their computers select targets thousands of miles away with no regard for the uncounted numbers of civilian deaths.

Jesus Christ urges us to spread the Rule of God, stop the wars, purify the world, heal the sick and comfort the sad, bend our knees in service and create joy and beauty wherever we go.

The Gospel for today is the old Gospel – loving our neighbours as ourselves, loving our enemies, turning the other cheek and going the extra mile.

Answers, Tesco

EDITOR – With reference to Sandra Semple's letter in Pulman's View on November 8th.

When Tesco had its information day at Seaton Town Hall and looking at the plan of the proposed supermarket, a large black area was shown at the rear of the shop and none of the Tesco representatives could tell us what it was. It now seems this has been added to the shop at Seaton. At that time their proposed distribution depot at Honiton was turned down.

It now seems this has been added to the shop at Seaton because why are they advertising for staff 9.30pm to 6am to deal with lorries 24 hours a day, seven days a week? I think Tesco should now let us know the whole truth for which we have been asking since the start.

country scene

Written by countryside correspondent
TONY JACKSON

Support from Tony's readers

A READER, Ali Standring, has written to support my stance on the need to consider some form of control for sparrowhawks, quite apart from the steady increase in magpies, crows and grey squirrels, all of which demand severe pruning.

In fact, I would be only too pleased to learn that the last grey squirrel had been eliminated. This, however, is wishful thinking I am afraid. Ali, who lives in the Cotleigh area has also noted the decline in swallows and martins in recent years and has, on numerous occasions, seen a sparrowhawk dart through two open fronted barns where swallows have been nesting. Apparently only three or four managed to fledge this year.

I can confirm that we too have suffered a severe reduction in swallow numbers over the past three or four years, but the decline is not, I think, due to raptor predation but some other, far more serious cause.

The culling, or management control of a species which, in terms of numbers is out of control, is always a sensitive issue and whilst largely applauded by genuine country dwellers, is seldom understood by urban dwellers whose only contact with the countryside and its wildlife is through fluffy television programmes. This is, I know, a generalisation but is, largely, true.

On the same theme, Mr and Mrs Collins from Honiton have written to me to confirm that their garden birds are greatly reduced in numbers, largely due to the presence of a sparrowhawk.

It is, I'm afraid, a regular complaint and until the RSPB takes its head out of the sand and accepts that these avian predators are having a serious effect on garden and song birds, little progress will be made.

I do not, in any way blame sparrowhawks for fulfilling their natural function and, in reasonable numbers, a balance can be maintained, but now the scales are becoming severely tipped in favour of these raptors and, bluntly, their numbers need to be reduced under licence.

I previously reported on the hen mallard which was seen with a brood of tiny ducklings on the Seaton marshes and she was again spotted on November 20th with 10 youngsters. Some young moorhens have also been recorded but whether these out of season broods will survive is debatable.

Lack of food, cold weather and predators will all take their toll. As far as rarities are concerned, a temmink's stint was noted at Colyford Common, the first for Devon in November and only the second recording for the Axe. Another rarity was a desert wheatear seen and photographed at Mansands, near Brixham.

I hear from Dorset Wildlife Trust that its Living Churchyards Scheme is expanding. The idea, basically, is to make churchyards wildlife friendly and at a workshop recently held in Milton Abbas by St James Wildlife Conservation Group, 30 representatives of parishes across the county were given advice on how to manage their churchyards for wildlife. Encouraging, too, to note that five parishes, not in the scheme before, have now signed up.

The winner of this year's Living Churchyard Competition was St James at Milton Abbas. Tips were given to the parish representatives, including sowing wild flowers on unattended graves. DWT wildlife expert, Jim White, gave advice on managing grassland and pointed out that there is no need to stop cutting grass all summer. Grassland herbs such as bird's foot trefoil, self heal and red clover are long-lived perennials which survive well in short turf, and mowed areas are good for wildlife, though some areas can be left uncut for a month to allow insects to come for nectar.

Churches that would like to participate in the Living Churchyard Scheme can ring 01305 264620 or go to www.dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk/churchyards.

Does this scheme exist in other counties I wonder?

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

TO complete the celebrations, the Queen went to a service of thanksgiving at Westminster Abbey for the 400th anniversary of the King James Bible.

The address was by the Archbishop of Canterbury who urged everyone to read the King James Bible so as to get a glimpse of what he called "the big picture".

The Prime Minister, David Cameron, has written his chosen two verses from the book of Philippians for The People's Bible project — joining 200,000 contributors. To read more see www.biblesociety.org.uk.

Rumours that Songs of Praise could become a multi-faith programme and that Radio 4's Daily Service and Thought for the Day could be axed have been quashed.

The BBC's head of religion and ethics has reassured the church and media forum that Songs of Praise would continue as a Christian programme and arrangements for the Daily Service would remain.

The Church Urban Fund has announced new advent and Christmas resources for churches available to download or order now. In addition to reflections and prayers linked to the lectionary readings for each week of advent, there is also material ideal for all-age services. Everyone can also help to raise funds for the Church Urban Fund by using the carol resources.

In this season of carols, St Andrew's Church, Colyton, is the venue for a Christmas concert by the South West Camerata on Saturday, December 10th at 3pm.

Axminster and District Choral Society offer a Christmas concert — Schubert Mass in G and Vaughan Williams Fantasia on Christmas carols — at the Minster Church, Axminster on Saturday, December 17th at 7.30pm. Tickets are available from the Archway Bookshop.

Many other special church events will take place between now and the Christmas festival — best sources for details will be church websites, magazines, Pulman's View and posters.

Revd Peter Crooks, formerly Chaplain at Aden, in Exeter's Companion Diocese of Cyprus and the Gulf, writes to remind us of the Ras Morbat clinic there, with its eye and general medical departments, close to Christchurch in a poor area near Steamer Point, Aden.

That combined post is currently vacant, and the Bishop of Cyprus and the Gulf asks for support by prayer and practical ways to find a new priest.

St Gregory's Church, Seaton, has just heard that it has been awarded £6,000 by the NatWest Community Fund for its kitchen facilities — so essential for its monthly Freedom Café events.

To close, the protest at St Paul's Cathedral from the anti-banks group has now spread beyond the capital, and over a dozen tents have been set up outside Exeter Cathedral where the protesters have been told they can stay provided the paths are kept clear.

Howard and Wendy explain their craft

A LARGE gathering of members and friends of Axminster Art Society was present at Musbury Village Hall to hear an entertaining and informative talk by the society's joint-presidents, Howard and Wendy Jones.

Both Howard and Wendy are accomplished artists in their own right and have for many years made Devon their home, although they paint and exhibit throughout England and France.

Howard began his career as an artist in Shropshire, but was soon attracted to the rugged scenery of Devon and Cornwall, where he concentrated on seascapes and the many streams and tors of Dartmoor.

Using his paintings to illustrate his points, he explained how the use of mixed media and thickly applied paint brought life and texture to each painting.

His intention was not to produce a faithful copy of the scene, but rather to be inspired by the interaction between rocks and water, picking out the interplay of light and shadow.

Particular examples of this use of tonal values were his paintings by moonlight and several done in the harsh sunlight of southern France.

Howard prefers painting on a large canvas and has always believed an artist must paint what he likes and not what others want.

Wendy also began by giving a brief account of her early, formative years which taught her to be true to herself.

She therefore bucked the then trend for a "free and loose" approach to painting, choosing rather to spend time planning and executing her works.

She proceeded to show the meeting many examples of her paintings, which included flowers of various types, broader scenes of gardens and meadows as well as compositions of lichens, pieces of wood and seashells.

In all her work, she demonstrated a clever use of colour and composition.

Howard and Wendy continue to be active both in the local society and in their home town of Exmouth.

The chairman, Rob Chappel, thanked them both warmly.

The next meeting will be on December 14th.

Caring work of war graves team

THE speaker at the November meeting of Axminster Historical Society was Ian Small, from the Commonwealth War Graves Commission.

He told members how the organisation started when Major General Sir Fabian Ware went to France to command a Red Cross Unit in 1914.

He saw makeshift grave markings, and realised they would not last for long in the war environment. His unit started to register and care for all the graves they could find.

After the First World War, cemeteries were set up to gather the graves.

Memorials to those who had no known grave were built. Some soldiers who remained in France started to tend the graves.

Their children continued the work and a family tradition of service has been built up.

As early as 1916 advice was sought about suitable plants to use in the memorial sites, to make them a restful place of pilgrimage.

The commission is also concerned with the fallen of the Second World War. It holds information on the 1,700,000 Commonwealth men and women who died during the two world wars.

The commission marks and maintains graves in 150 countries around the world.

The commission can provide information on Commonwealth servicemen and women from both world wars. Its website is at www.cwgc.org.

The next meeting will be tomorrow (Wednesday, December 7th) at 7.30pm in the URC Hall, when the speaker will be Gail McGarva, talking about the history of traditional boat building.

Genius of West artist

THE lecture arranged by Seaton and District Lions' Club on November 21st at Seaton Town Hall on the late West Country artist Robert Lenkiewicz proved a great success.

Francis Mallett, chairman and a trustee of the Lenkiewicz Foundation, gave an interesting illustrated presentation on the life, work and ideas of the charismatic painter who died in 2002.

Mr Mallett, who knew Lenkiewicz for many years, spoke at length to an appreciative audience about the thoughts and messages the artist attempted to convey.

Following the speaker's presentation Kevin Frost, a member of Seaton Lions' Club, conducted an auction of three signed, limited edition, Lenkiewicz prints. All the prints exceeded their reserve prices and were sold.

Brenda is re-elected

THE November meeting of Colyton Women's Institute included the annual meeting.

Brenda Clark was re-elected as president and two new members, Teresa Hattam and Lynda Boardman, joined the committee.

Noelle has decided to step down from the committee. Brenda presented her with a plant and thanked her for all her support and help. Jacky also gave members an idea of what can be expected in the 2012 programme which will be Colyton WI's 85th year. After tea and cakes a quiz was held.

Local firm to hold office parties for charity

The Partners and Staff at Scott Rowe solicitors would like to wish all their clients – past, present and future - a very peaceful Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

To celebrate the festive season Scott Rowe will again be hosting festive evenings at their three offices.

The first one at the Lyme Regis office was held on 1st December and was a great success with over forty people attending.

The Axminster office will be open late on Friday 9th December between 5pm and 7pm to tie-in with Axminster's Festive Friday celebrations.

There will be complimentary drinks and nibbles being served and a chance to enter our charity prize draw.

Last year Scott Rowe managed to raise £400 in aid of Exeter Leukaemia Fund and this year they are hoping to top that amount.

This year a local fundraising organisation The Little Purple Kitty has been selected to receive all monies raised from the raffle.

The Little Purple Kitty was set up to raise funds for CLIC Sargent, Above and Beyond and Little Princess charities, all of whom support children suffering from cancer. The founder of The Little Purple Kitty, Andrew Teague, says "We are really grateful for Scott Rowe's fundraising support. We set up the organisation as we wanted to give something back to the charities that provided us with so much help when my daughter was diagnosed with leukaemia. Every penny helps and this draw will really make a difference."

Andrew Teague will be attending the festive evening at Scott Rowe's Chard office on Wednesday 14th December to pull the winning tickets for the prize draw.

There are loads of prizes to be won including a luxury hamper, toys and games, plus other festive treats. Tickets are £1 each and are available from any of the Scott Rowe offices, which can be found in Axminster, Chard and Lyme Regis. Tickets will also be on sale at any of the Scott Rowe festive evenings so please pop in, enjoy a drink and enter the raffle.

Morton's Pharmacy celebrates ten years in Trinity Square

Ian and Paula commented: "We are thrilled to be celebrating our ten year anniversary with both staff and customers. We are pleased about the fantastic reputation Morton's has built in the community, particularly as Mr LLewelyn, the previous owner was held in such high regard."

Over the past several years, Morton's Pharmacy has also been working hard to develop the same levels of service in the form of an online pharmacy, which has also been a success.

Ian is keen to ensure that the community takes advantage of the popular services that Morton's offers. He will be reminding customers that Morton's offers home delivery for prescriptions in the area.

A very popular blood pressure testing service is also offered. In addition, Morton's dispenses and supplies private prescriptions throughout the whole of the UK at nationally competitive prices.

Morton's Pharmacy prides itself upon being a family business, helped by a wonderful team of staff who are dedicated to providing the highest standards of customer care to local patients. Ian and Paula are looking forward to continuing the high levels of service in the years to come.

Morton's Pharmacy have been an important part of the Axminster community for the past ten years. The pharmacy has been operating in this location for over a hundred years and is indeed a landmark of Trinity Square.

"We would like to sincerely thank our staff and customers"

Take the pain out of festive travel arrangements

IT IS no wonder that sorting out the transport arrangements for the festive period often gets forgotten or overlooked.

Payne's Premier Travel offers a range of 4, 6 and 8 seater taxis, including a wheelchair accessible vehicle, for your local or long distance journeys.

Successfully established for over 3 years, Payne's Premier Travel has rapidly built up an excellent reputation for offering an affordable, courteous and reliable local taxi service in the Axe Valley and surrounding areas.

We are open for business seven days a week and operate a fleet of 4, 6 and 8 passenger low mileage vehicles, including a Peugeot Eurobus which is fully wheelchair accessible. And because we care about the environment, we have selected the Toyota Prius - the greenest car around - to be the workhorse of our operation. HAPPY FEET TWO (U)

FIVE years after the original Happy Feet danced into the affections of audiences worldwide and won the Oscar as Best Animated Feature, director George Miller returns to the frozen wilderness for this pointless sequel.

Opening with a mash-up of Janet Jackson's Rhythm Nation and brother Michael's catchy Shake Your Body, Happy Feet Two is punctuated by a series of musical numbers culminating in a rousing rendition of Under Pressure by Queen and David Bowie.

While the soundtrack to Miller's film hits the high notes, the script is frequently off-key, heavy-handedly dealing with issues of parenting and friendship, then ladling on the sickly sentiment.

This animation features the voices of Elijah Wood, Robin Williams, Pink, Sofia Vergara, Ava Acres, Hank Azaria, Common, Richard Carter, Hugo Weaving, Brad Pitt and Matt Damon.

The ecological subtext about the irrevocable damage of global warming and mankind's responsibility to act now comes through lucid and clear.

Alas, the plot is so flimsy, you fear a blast of the ferocious Antarctic winds might blow the entire film off the big screen.

Mumble the penguin (Elijah Wood), who learned to dance in the first film, has raised a son called Erik (Ava Acres) with his wife Gloria (Pink).

Like his father, Erik is struggling to find his rhythm in Emperor-Land and he searches for answers with best friends Boadicia and Atticus in the company of wisecracking Ramon (Robin Williams).

Mumble chases after the little ones and returns home to discover a giant iceberg has slammed into their home, sending all the emperor penguins to certain doom.

Noah The Elder (Hugo Weaving) attempts to keep calm with the help of trusted penguins such as Seymour (Common) but the situation is dire.

With time running out, Mumble compels Ramon to marshal the adelie penguins to help with the rescue effort.

An elephant seal called Bryan (Richard Carter) also provides support.

Meanwhile, a flying penguin called The Mighty Sven (Hank Azaria) inspires little Erik to follow his dreams, Ramon pursues the sultry Carmen (Sofia Vergara), and two krill called Will (Brad Pitt) and Bill (Matt Damon) escape from the swarm to view underwater life from a new perspective.

Happy Feet Two trades heavily on the charm of the original film, hoping that our affection for Mumble and his feathered friends will blind us to the chasms in the script.

Regrettably, not even the 3D format or Williams's verbal gymnastics can conceal those flaws and George Miller's film coasts along gently, clumsily bringing together all the characters for the grandstand finale.

Pitt and Damon provide flecks of comic relief.

A couple of moments between Mumble and Erik tug the heartstrings but the emotional manipulation is shameless.

Happy Feet Two is preceded by a musical, computer-animated short, I Tawt I Taw A Puddy Tat, which establishes the rivalry between Tweety and Sylvester.

That's all, folks, hopefully for good.

ENDURANCE RIDING

Brave Kirsty endures hip op days after ride

JUST days after taking part in a gruelling international equestrian event, endurance rider Kirsty Wiscombe underwent a hip replacement operation.

She expects to have a replacement op on her other hip soon.

Riding 11-year-old pure-bred gelding Eskar, Kirsty, from Yawl, near Lyme Regis, returned to Mirwart, host of the Belgian National Championships, to complete its 130km course.

Despite needing help getting on and off Eskar, the pair finished seventh overall and won the Mirwart FEI Veteran Rider Championship.

Just five days after the ride Kirsty underwent a total right hip replacement and will have her left hip replaced in the coming weeks.

Whatever the setbacks Kirsty hopes to be back in the saddle less than five months after this second operation to complete another 160km ride in mid-April.

In 2009 Kirsty, 40, fought her way back to fitness after undergoing multiple surgery. One of these operations went badly wrong and Kirsty spent five weeks in a London hospital fighting for her life.

OTTERY CRICKETS LADIES' HOCKEY

OTTERY Crickets' ladies first team finished the first half of the season with another win, away against Newton Abbott.

Ottery put the pressure on straightaway, and Karen Dutton opened the scoring with a strike just inside the right post.

Ottery continued with good play, attacked the Newton Abbot circle and were awarded a short corner, which Dutton hit and Izzy Stribling deflected in from the left post.

Ottery then relaxed their marking a little too much and saw two quick goals from Newton Abbott, making the game 2-2 at half-time.

Thankfully, Crickets picked up their game again and and scored another before the final whistle.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

FOUR Axe Valley Runners turned out for the Otterton Reindeer Run, a multi-terrain 10K with a good, testing course.

It was a fairly wet day, but enhanced by the prospect of mulled wine and mince pies afterwards.

Laurence Bolam, of Sidmouth, won comfortably in 37.04. Robin Britton had a good run finishing 22nd in 44.39.

Robin Carter was next. She finished 37th in 46.49, with a very weary Paul Johns 39th in 47.50.

Andy Sayers made it home in 82nd, 54.42, still in the top half of the field of running reindeer and Santas etc.

A good run to get you set for the Yuletide season.

Other runners enjoyed the delights of the well established Full Monty-Cute 10-mile cross country Sunday.

This starts and finishes at the top of Ham Hill, with the bonus of 10 hills en route.

Garry Perratt has become many races' course-checker and this is what he did here, running the route ensuring all was marked well for the competitors.

However, his quick change at the end seemed to put a few runners off their stride.

Alex Todd was the first AVR home, a magnificent sixth overall out of 237 in 1.18:44. Graham Newton had a brilliant end of year run finishing 46th in 1.31:32 and winning the first vet 60 category.

Eleanor Wood was pleased to get a personal best of 1.35:47; she was fifth lady home, 68th overall and winning the first vet 45 trophy.

Richard Dodge was 106th, 1.42:19. Gavin Warren had a much better run than the previous week's Bicton Blister and was chuffed with his performance; he was 193rd in 1.58:24.

Despite a great Christmas party on Saturday evening, Gill and Jon Day ran together as husband and wife, finishing in 2.20:49, joint 230th.

INDOOR BOWLS

ONLY four friendly matches have been played by Axminster Indoor Bowls in the past fortnight, with two good wins achieved.

Axminster beat Severalls at home (63-47) with a top rink of Les Monk, Jo Barnish, Ann Clayton, and Frank Lintott (22-11) with David Harris, Pam Hunter, Brian Clark, and Sheila Martin tying (22-22).

Axminster then had an excellent home win against Madeira (59-50) thanks mainly to the great efforts of Les Monk, Phil Bolwell, Jean Kesterton, and Sid Milburn (25-10).

Axminster lost at home to Ottery (41-64) despite a winning rink of Phil White, Pam Hunter, David Harris, and Frank Lintott (19-17) and a 16-16 tie for Les Monk, William Cook, Chris Todd, and Sheila Martin and then went on to lose at Taunton Deane (42-76) in a game best forgotten.

Unfortunately the ladies' friendly game at Budleigh was called off but will be played later in the season.

AXE CLIFF GOLF

◆ WINNER of the prestigious Scratch Cup, Axe Cliff's competition secretary Glenda Board

Early birds Clive and Morrison collect prize

THE fourth round of the Seniors' Winter League Programme at Axe Cliff Golf Club has taken place.

Although strong winds had been forecast, conditions were quite benign until midday.

The scoring was very good and the winners with an excellent 39 points were early starters Clive Davie and Morrison Brown.

No fewer than five teams posted scores of 37 points, with second place on countback going to Geoff Hughes / Pete Motson and third spot to Roger Wright / Neil Moorcraft.

The other teams to end on this mark were Gerry Turner / Martin Wallbank, Chris Jowett / Bob Graham and Bob Berry / Dave Sammons. There were three twos, from Morrison Brown, Alan Vincent and Bob Flay

Ladies' Section.

Firstly, the club's apologies to Glenda Board, winner of the prestigious Scratch Cup this year. We supplied the wrong picture for last week's paper.

Glenda was also the winner of this week's competion — the first winter league played as an 18 hole Stableford in extreme gale force conditions.

In second place was Sandra Walker.

The main club played round three of its Winter League. First place went to Peter Keats (19) and Stuart Mackie (11) with 44 points. In second place were Matt Donan (25) and Simon Palmer (18) with 43 points and in third Steve Anning (12) and Richard Gibbons (8) with 43.

Twos — Anthony Chadwick had two and there was one each for Mike Wickins and Alan Kenworthy.

CARLSBERG SOUTH WEST PENINSULA

Red-carded keeper leaves team-mates struggling

Division One East
Teignmouth 6
Axminster Town 0

A RED card for Tigers goalkeeper Chris Higgs after just 28 minutes proved a bitter blow for the visitors and effectively ended any hopes of getting a result from the match.

Higgs was instantly dismissed after tripping Teignmouth striker Steve Mardell outside the area.

Outfield player Lee Griffin had to take over between the sticks and with the side down to eight men that left the Tigers badly exposed.

At that point the home side were 1-0 thanks to a 16th-minute strike from Steve Shrubb but the match was evenly poised.

Mardell made it 2-0 just before half-time and while the home side dominated after the break, Axminster never gave up the battle and it took until the 80th minute before further goals were conceded.

FRESHA DEVON AND EXETER LEAGUE

Disappointing Seaton exit from cup in shock of day

SEATON Town manager Josh Stunnel has admitted his side's 5-2 defeat at home to Newton Abbot Spurs in the Graddon Vending Devon Premier Cup was one of the worst performances since he took over.

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

The Premier Division leaders have lost only once in the league all season and were hot favourites to progress in the competition so the defeat was one of the shocks of the day.

"I think Newton Abbot turned up half expecting to get beaten but we made it easy for them," said Stunnel. "The players let themselves down.

"For 30 minutes we looked like world-beaters but did not take our chances so found ourselves 2-1 down at half-time.

Then when we missed a penalty and when they went and scored again we seemed to collapse and give in.

"I have never seen that happen before in two years at the club and hopefully it will be a kick up the backside for everyone.

"I'll be looking for a big response in our next league game."

Mark Hancock scored both Seaton's goals while the unlucky Josh French saw his spot kick saved.

Also bowing out of the cup were Beer Albion, overwhelmed 7-0 by a classy Stoke Gabriel side. Beer never recovered from conceding four goals in the opening 12 minutes.

There was better news in the Devon Intermediate Cup as Feniton Reserves reached the semi-finals after beating Bow 3-0 with goals from John Phillips, Jamie Easterbrook and Dan Thomas.

But Axmouth bowed out of the same competition, beaten 7-4 at Bosshill Cross by in-form Millwey Rise from the Perry Street League.

Trailing 5-1 in the second half, Axmouth staged a terrific fightback to make it 5-4 before the visitors took control again.

Axmouth's goals came from Reece Hales (two), Matt Ellis and Jamie Hughes.

"The lads have done me, themselves and the club proud with that display," said Axmouth manager Laurie Forino.

"Millwey Rise are a very good side with quality strikers who were outstanding on Saturday, but at 5-1 down many sides would have thrown in the towel and lost more heavily.

"But my lads showed the great team spirit we have here.

"With not a harsh word or scent of blame between them, they picked themselves and got back into the match. I can't be disappointed with them."

In Division One Tipton St John continued their good form with a 2-1 win against the University with late goals from Glen Salter and Jamie Connett proving decisive.

Greg Channing scored twice for promotion hopefuls Chard Town in Division Two as they won 2-0 at Sidmouth.

In Division Five Beer Albion Reserves put up a good fight before slipping to a 2-1 defeat against Cullompton Rangers Reserves with Josh Moughton, who hit the crossbar, having his best game of the season.

Also in Division One Feniton hammered Exeter SC 6-2 with a hat-trick from Andy Hawkins, two from Paul Dowling and a sixth from Liam Ogbourne.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

Emmett on fire again for Millwey

GOAL-SCORING machine Terry Emmett fired another hat-trick to help Millwey Rise reach the semi-final of the Devon Intermediate Cup.

With Sam Diblin grabbing two and one apiece for Michael Knight and player-manager Shane Featherstone, Millwey beat Axmouth 7-4 at Bosshill Cross to reach the last four.

"We were knocked out in the quarter finals last year so this season it would be great to go all the way and make the final," said Featherstone.

In the Dorset Cup Lyme Regis Reserves also reached the semi finals after beating Piddlehinton Reserves 2-1 after extra time with Ali Rattenbury scoring both goals from corners taken by Sam Beviss.

"That was hard-earned after the game ended goalless in 90 minutes," said Lyme boss Gerard Hitchcock.

"The lads battled really hard and after conceding eight against Millwey Rise the previous week it was nice to turn it around."

Lyme's first team were also among the goals as they rattled 10 past hapless bottom side Perry Street to strengthen their grip at the top of the Premier Division.

Adam Caddy stole the show with a double hat-trick .

Also in the Premier Winsham continued their good season with a 2-1 win at Crewkerne Town with Joe Simmons scoring both goals. Meanwhile, reigning champions South Petherton thumped West and Middle Chinnock 5-1 with Paul Dexter scoring a hat-trick and further goals coming from Rich Hebditch and Adam Bourne.

Ilminster Town Reserves bounced back from defeat the previous week, which was their first of the season, to defeat Combe Reserves 2-1 with goals from Craig Rice and Mike Whitefield.

In Division One Forton Rangers took advantage of Millwey Rise's cup commitments to regain top spot with a 3-2 win over Netherbury with goals from Tom Melhuish, Craig Salter and Andrew Stephenson.

Division Three leaders Chard United suffered a 3-0 defeat to close rivals Waytown Hounds, who are now just three points adrift with two games in hand.

"That was very disappointing and Waytown deserved to win," said Chard boss James Govier.

"I said to the lads that the season would not be decided on this game but it has made it harder for us."

Govier admitted the team is struggling to find a replacement for leading goal scorer Marco Quedas, who has returned home to Portugal.

Also in Division Three Millwey Rise Reserves thumped Forton Rangers Reserves 9-2 with four goals for Mark Pike, three for Levi Hole and further goals for Tristan Wakeley and Jerry Lyman.

HONITON GOLF CLUB

IT was another beautifully mild morning when members of Honiton Running Club went to Bicton College to take part in the Bicton Blister or Bicton Lite races.

The Blister is a 10-mile, multi-terrain race with the start and finish being road sections and the remainder sandy, stony and muddy paths across Woodbury Common.

It's getting to be a habit but first home for Honiton once again was Bruce Strawbridge who came 52nd in 1 hour 17 minutes and 53 seconds.

He was followed by Richard Harvey who had only just overtaken Steve Davey. Richard was 66th in 1.19:57 and Steve followed one place and just five seconds later.

Richard Harris wasn't feeling fully fit but was pleased with his result of 79th place in 1.21:34.

Next home was Honiton's first lady, Julie Payne, who was delighted to have beaten her time of last year to come 124th in 1.25:34.

She was followed by Roger Saunders who came 153rd in 1.27:41 and then came Howard Bidmead. Judy Davey could see Howard ahead of her for a couple of miles and this was where he stayed.

Howard came 157th in 1.28:03 and Judy 179th in 1.29:55. Pippa Westall got off to a really good start and Judy had to follow her for the first section.

Judy did pass her but Pippa had a fantastic run coming 206th in exactly 1.32.

John Burgess was next back and was pleased with his time of 1.34:59 in 243rd, which was similar to last year.

Brent Dicks was trying Bicton for the first time. He has been celebrating the big 40 week and this was his way of dealing with the excesses of the night before. He was 259th in 1.36:18. Julie, Judy and Pippa made up Honiton's Ladies' team and they were rewarded for their efforts by coming second ladies' team overall.

Several Honiton juniors took part in the shorter Bicton Lite with great results. Sam Urquhart was first back for Honiton with the excellent position of seventh overall in 36.14.

Layla Felgate was the first Honiton girl back coming a fantastic 10th overall just 21 seconds behind Sam. Henry Riddle had a cold and felt he could have done better but he still finished in 13th place in 38.59.

Lydia Clapp was pleased with her race coming 20th in 41.53. Jake Harvey completed the junior team. He found the hills a bit more of a challenge than he liked and was disappointed to be placed 45th in 48.31.

Adult member Tracy Strawbridge was delighted to knock 10 minutes off her previous time coming 43rd in 48.01.

Nick, 17, grabs two as Tipton stay at the top

Devon & Exeter League Division 8
Tipton St John Reserves 2
Colyton Reserves 1

TWO goals from teenager Nick Roberts helped secure Tipton Reserves' 13th win of the season and keep them firmly on top of Division Eight.

The 17-year-old Colyton Grammar School student took his season's total to 10 as Mike Dawe's side continue their remorseless push for the title, with just one draw the only points dropped so far in 14 games this season.

"I don't think we are playing as well as we were a few weeks ago but we are still grinding out results and have the knack of upping our game when we need to," said Dawe.

"We were missing some key players on Saturday but the fringe lads who came in did their job."

Roberts gave the home side the lead before 16-year-old Jed Feldman equalised for Colyton in the second half, but Tipton responded to just do enough to claim victory.

"Tipton are top of the league but we gave them a good game," said Colyton manager Matthew Orsman.

"At the start of the season we were struggling to get a team out but we now have five 16-year-olds in the side and they have made a big improvement."

Orsman would be happy with a top-half finish to the season but for Dawe promotion remains the overwhelming priority.

"I joined last season when we finished fourth and the aim is to go up this year and so far, so good," added Dawe.
